

The Document Game

Poor Melissa, her week started with a routine annual physical...or so she thought.

Chaos ensued when her elderly mother, Sandy, called from the nursing home complaining of severe arthritic pain that needed immediate attention.

To top it all off, Melissa's son, Tommy, returned from Little League practice with what appeared to be a swollen dislocated finger.

